INTERESTING CEREMONY AT CLANDEBOYE CAMP

Presentation of Military Medal

Report in Northern Whig - 22nd February 1917

An interesting ceremony took place yesterday at the above camp occupied by the 18th Battalion Royal Irish Rifles the Military Medal awarded to Rifleman Andrew Moore being presented by Colonel Sharman- Crawford D.L., M.P. commanding the battalion in the presence of the battalion.

Rifleman Moore whose parents are resident in Belfast was formerly employed by Mr Dickie at Ballyeaston, near Ballyclare. He joined the 12th Battalion Royal Irish Rifles in September 1914 proceeded with the Ulster Division in 1915.

Colonel Sharman Crawford in making the presentation congratulated Rifleman Moore on the distinction he had gained and said he was glad to learn that he had proved himself a brave, efficient and trustworthy soldier. On 1st July last although severely wounded by shrapnel he continued to advance with his company. Subsequently he was wounded a second time yet he stopped during a retirement to bandage the wounds of an officer and some men and on reaching the lines directed the stretcher bearers to where the wounded were lying. Such gallant conduct was worthy of the admiration of every man who appreciated soldierly qualities.

After the action Moore was in hospital until October and was then posted to the 18th Battalion. In handing this medal he (Colonel Crawford) had great pleasure in promoting Rifleman Moore to the rank of corporal and wishing that he might long wear the decoration he had so bravely won.
